

Quarterly Statutory Homelessness Statistics

April – June 2025

Data covers the period between 1st April – 30th June 2025

Data published 16th October 2025

Statutory Homelessness data

Statutory homelessness data is collected by all Local Authorities across England and reported to the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government (MHCLG).

This data provides critical information about homelessness in England and is published by MHCLG on a quarterly and annual basis.

The data is often referred to as HCLIC data which stands for Homelessness Case Level Information Collection.

The term 'statutory homelessness' refers to households that meet specific criteria under the Homelessness Reduction Act (HRA) 2017 and are therefore legally entitled to help from their Local Authority.

A 'relief duty' refers to households that are assessed as being homeless.

A 'prevention duty' refers to households that are assessed as being threatened with homelessness.

A 'main duty' is a local authority's legal responsibility to secure suitable, settled accommodation for households who are eligible, homeless, in priority need, and not intentionally homeless, after prevention and relief efforts have been unsuccessful.

The data collated enables us to monitor changes in the number and characteristics of households approaching their Local Authority as potentially homeless.

Headline figures (for the period April to June 2025)

- The number of households owed a homelessness duty decreased across England, the (wider) West Midlands and the WMCA area, over the past year.
- The number of households in Temporary Accommodation increased across England, the (wider) West Midlands and the WMCA area, over the past year.
- Long periods of time spent in Temporary Accommodation by homeless households means we can expect a lag in the data. Whilst the number of households owed a homelessness duty may have decreased, there are still many households 'stuck' in Temporary Accommodation.
- Across England 78,630 households were owed a homelessness duty and 132,410 households were living in Temporary Accommodation, including 172,420 children.
- In the (wider) West Midlands region 7,460 households were assessed as being owed a homelessness duty and 8,820 households were living in Temporary Accommodation, including 16,580 children.
- In the WMCA area 4,052 households were assessed as being owed a homelessness duty and 7,074 households were living in Temporary Accommodation at the end of June 2025, including 14,518 children.

National picture

At a national level

78,630 households were homeless or at risk of becoming homeless in England

- Between April to June 2025 initial assessments were undertaken for 86,370 households, with 78,630 (91%) of these assessed as being owed a duty. This represents a 6% decrease from 83,240 households assessed as owed a duty in the same period last year and a 6% decrease from 83,450 compared to the previous quarter (January – March 2025).
- Across England 1.74 households per 100,000 were assessed as being homeless or at risk of becoming homeless and owed a duty. A decrease from 1.90 this time last year and 1.88 in the last quarter (January – March 2025).
- Households at risk of homelessness due to being served a Section 21 notice (known as a no-fault eviction) numbered 6,530 (18% of households owed a prevention duty). This represents a 7% decrease from 7,040 during the same period in 2024, and a 2% decrease from 6,640 when compared to the previous quarter (January – March 2025).
- The most common reason for loss of last settled home for households owed a prevention duty was that their private rented Assured Shorthold Tenancy (AST) had come to an end, this totalled 13,430 households (37% of households owed a prevention duty).
- The most common reason for loss of last settled home for households owed a relief duty was family or friends no longer able or willing to accommodate, totalling 12,340 households (29% of households owed a relief duty).

At a national level

132,410 households are in Temporary Accommodation in England

- Across England there were 132,410 households living in Temporary Accommodation at the end of June 2025, representing a rise of 8% from 123,100 for the same period in 2024; and a 1% increase from 131,140 when compared to the previous quarter (January – March 2025).
- This equates to a rate of 5.43 households per 100,000, increasing from 5.08 for the same time period last year and 5.38 in the last quarter (January – March 2025).
- 84,240 households living in Temporary Accommodation had children, representing a 7% increase from 78,420 the previous year; and a 1% increase from 83,150 households in the last quarter (January – March 2025).
- The total number of children living in Temporary Accommodation was 172,420, this represents an 8% increase from 159,380 in the same time period last year; and a 2% increase from 169,050 when compared to the previous quarter (January – March 2025).

Total number of households in Temporary Accommodation per 100,000

- In the WMCA area 7,074* households were in Temporary Accommodation, representing a 4% increase from 6,823 households this time last year, a smaller proportional rise than the 8% increase seen nationally. It is also a 1% decrease from 7,137 households in Temporary Accommodation in the last quarter (January – March 2025).
- In the WMCA area 6,173 households living in Temporary Accommodation had children, representing a 6% increase from 5,851 the previous year. This is a slightly smaller increase than the 7% increase seen nationally. It is a 0.3% decrease from 6,191 in the last quarter (January – March 2025).
- 14,518 children were living in Temporary Accommodation, a 7% increase from 13,620 compared to the same period the previous year. This is a slightly smaller increase than the 8% increase seen nationally. It is a 0.3% increase from 14,477 in the last quarter (January – March 2025).
- Temporary Accommodation data is missing for Wolverhampton for the period April - June 2025, January - March 2025 and April - June 2024, therefore all WMCA-level TA data on this slide excludes Wolverhampton.*
- When percentage changes have been calculated, Wolverhampton data has been excluded for all time periods to ensure a fair comparison.

WMCA level

The most common household composition in Temporary Accommodation in the WMCA area was a couple with dependent children

Households in Temporary Accommodation by household composition

- The most common household composition in Temporary Accommodation in the WMCA area was a couple with dependent children, closely followed by single female with dependent children.
- Household composition in Temporary Accommodation in the WMCA:
 - Couple with dependent children: 36% (2,573 households)
 - Single female with dependent children: 35% (2,496 households)
 - All other household types: 16% (1,138 households – this includes multi-person households without dependent children i.e. couples or families with adult children or no children)
